

Heatmap showing the distribution of 1000 random forest models across 20 locations. The locations are listed on the y-axis, and the models are listed on the x-axis. The color scale ranges from 0 (blue) to 1 (red). The heatmap shows that most models are distributed across all locations, with some locations like StorrsCT and SkatootonSK showing higher concentrations of certain models.